

"HOG SPECIAL" IS COMING NOV. 3

Soo Line Will Bring To City An Exhibition Of Pure Bred Swine

A plan which we think every farmer in this section will be interested in to "raise more and better hogs" to win the war, has been inaugurated cooperatively by the Soo Line and the local bank, as announced in our advertising columns.

A "Soo Line Hog Special" which is really an exhibition on wheels of pure bred acclimated swine, will roll into this town on November 3, and remain open for farmers and others to look them over, ask questions and get particulars of the new help win the war plan in which the farmers, the banks and the railroad company are all to "do their bit."

The particulars may be learned in advance or after the Hog Special has been here by calling on the bank.

Every thrifty farmer, and certainly every patriot in this section will want to know more about how the hogs are to help win the war.

COMISKEY HOST AT MERCER CAMP

Fifty adherents of the world's champion White Sox of Chicago are encamped at Camp Jerome at Trude lake, west of Mercer as the guests of President Comiskey of the Chicago American League club, states the Hurley Miner.

Three special sleepers were attached to the Northwestern train to accommodate the celebrants. They were cut off at Mercer preparatory to a twelve mile jaunt in to the woods, where the Jerome Country club was all lit up in preparation for the annual fall invasion.

President Comiskey, Manager Rowland of the White Sox, and Business Manager Williams of the Cubs were the only baseball celebrities included in the party. The rest of it was composed of White Sox rooters and Chicago baseball scribes. None of the world's champions made the trip, which is expected to include a fortnight's stay in the woods.

Hitherto hunting and fishing has occupied some of the time of Comiskey's guests at the Jerome club, but on this occasion it is expected the feathered and finny tribes will be perfectly safe, as all efforts will be centered on a proper celebration of the victory of the White Sox and their "bush league" manager over the pride of Gotham and their veteran leader.

KOUDELKA HEADS NEW ORPHANAGE

Right Reverend Bishop J. M. Koudelka has been elected president of the Board of Directors of St. Joseph's Orphanage in Superior. Other officers of the corporation, articles of which have recently been filed at Madison, are Father C. J. Webber, vice president, and Father A. J. Van Helden, secretary and treasurer. Father Van Helden was also elected manager of the new institution, which only recently was opened as a home for orphans.

Other members of the Board of Directors include Father Barney of Hudson, Father Oeder of Ashland, Father Klapp of Hurley, Father Reiter of Medford, and J. J. Finn and E. Hawarden of Superior.

At the present time the orphanage is taking care of 37 children, and every week brings several applications for the entrance of worthy cases. The orphanage can accommodate several hundred children and is probably the most complete institution of its kind in the state. As yet the entire building has not been completed, but will be within a short time.

MAXWELL SIGN

T C Wood will soon erect on N Brown street a wooden sign board upon which will be painted advertisements for the Maxwell car. The board will be fifty feet long and twelve feet high. About three times each year the advertisements will be changed.

Mr Wood believes this method of advertising will prove worth the expense and trouble involved. However, he says there is no form of publicity which brings the results of newspaper space. He speaks from experience for he uses lots of printer's ink.

MISS LYNNE CARR BECOMES BRIDE

Miss Lynne Carr, the girl after whom the town of Lynne, Oneida county, was named, is a bride. Early Saturday evening she became the wife of Dr F W Hannum of Muskegon, Mich. The ceremony was performed by Father Campbell Gray of St Augustine's church at the residence of Mr and Mrs William C Orr, 230 South Stevens street. The couple was unattended. Only relatives were present. A dinner was served following the wedding. Dr and Mrs Hannum departed the following morning for Ashland for a brief visit and from there will go to their home in Muskegon.

The bride is the daughter of Ex County Clerk and Mrs W W Carr. She was born in Rhinelander and grew to womanhood here. After graduating from the high school she entered St Luke's hospital, Chicago, where she recently finished her course as a nurse. She is an accomplished young lady and popular among her many friends. At the time the town of Lynne was organized a number of years ago the Oneida county board named the new town in her honor. Her father was then county clerk.

Dr Hannum, while a stranger to Rhinelander people, is highly spoken of and has made a favorable impression among all who have met him here. He is a specialist in diseases of the eyes, ears, nose and throat.

The New North congratulates the newly weds.

LABOR FOR WOODS WORK IS SCARCE

Employment Offices Never Catch Up With Lumber Camp Orders

Labor of all kind is more scarce now than ever known before in woods work and other lines, in northern Wisconsin, states an Ashland correspondent. The various companies are paying 10 per cent more than a year ago and the wage scale runs about like this: Swampers, $40 per month; sawyers, teamsters and cant hook men, $45; top deckers, $55; cooks and blacksmiths $75; cooks in big camps $90 and $100; foremen, $160 to $125.

One of the old timers in the woods and on the rivers of northern Wisconsin, is John Dowd, who for several years has operated the Ashland employment office. Mr Dowd came to the woods of the Chequamegon bay district in 1882—35 years ago and to Ashland in 1888. He has resided there ever since; was sheriff for two years; a deputy sheriff for eight years; a police officer for four years; an employment agent for 11 years.

John Dowd knew the old-time lumberjack—knew him because he was one of them. He agrees that the lumberjack of the old day is an almost extinct species. Commenting on the present day situation, Mr Dowd says:

"There is a great shortage of labor. If I had the men I could send out 500 in crews right today. The great trouble is to keep a man after you get him nowadays. They will not stay on the job and work steadily like they did in the old days when wages were $18 and $20, and $25 was a high price. A foreman hardly dares talk to a man this year for fear he may say something that will offend the workman and he will lay down his ax or his saw or what ever he may be handling and quit the job where he is so badly needed. Men shift about, lose a lot of time and as a result they have no more in the end than they did at the old time lower wages. That is the rule in most cases."

MANY DANCE FOR CHARITY'S SAKE

The receipts of the Charity "Jitney Dance" at the Armory Tuesday night amounted to about $125. This money will be devoted to the work of the Visiting Nurse Association in this city.

The "Jitney Dance" was a change from the ordinary Charity Ball and proved just as enjoyable. The Hazel Crawford orchestra furnished its usual high class music.

MANY JOIN THRIFT CLUB

The Thrift Club at the Squier Store is proving very popular. Many young people have taken this method of saving money for their holiday purchase. The Squier Store is now receiving its beautiful new stocks of Christmas gifts.

INSTITUTE HERE VERY SUCCESSFUL

County Teachers Derive Great Profit From The Meetings

The Annual School Board Convention and Teachers' Institute for Oneida county was held in the Training school at Rhinelander, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

County Superintendent F. A. Lowell deemed it advisable to change the date this year, and as a result the meeting was held several weeks earlier than in former years. The schools have been in session for at least two months, and all the schools in the county have received at least one visit from the County Superintendent and Supervising Teacher. The teachers were in the position to derive the greatest profit from the meetings.

The meeting on Thursday was opened promptly at 9:40 a. m. by Superintendent Lowell, who urged that the school board members remain for as many of the meetings as possible and also to encourage their teachers to attend every meeting of the institute. After those present had been given an opportunity to enroll, Dr Vaughan, from the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin talked on the subject of "Pedigree Grains and their Treatment for Smut." Dr. Vaughan is an authority on the grain diseases and his address was not only interesting but profitable as well.

A few minutes were then devoted to singing, lead by Supt. W. P. Colburn, after which State Rural School Inspector, W. E. Larson, addressed the meeting upon "New School Laws and Recent Educational Movements." Mr. Larson knows his subject and explained many of the new school laws in a very helpful manner. The school board members by their questions and discussion proved that the subject was one of interest to them and that Mr Larson's address had been of much help.

Miss Worden, city school nurse, was scheduled to open the afternoon session but was unable to be present as her work unexpectedly called her out of the city.

Mr Larson spoke upon the subject "School Work for the Present School Year," following which, Miss Grace Lally, Supervising Teacher, discussed common errors in the rural schools. As the County Superintendent and Supervising Teacher have already made at least one visit to every school in the county except four, Miss Lally was able to point out many of the most common errors which teachers are making, and everyone felt that her talk had been beneficial in extreme.

The closing address of Thursday's program was given by City Supt. W. P. Colburn upon the subject of "Standard Tests." Supt. Colburn has been trying out these tests in the city schools for the past two years, and presented some very interesting facts concerning them.

At 4:00 o'clock the school board members, teachers and visitors were invited to the Domestic Science kitchen where they were served a demonstration hot lunch prepared by Miss Calvert, assisted by the Training school girls. The lunch consisted of cream of tomato soup and wafers, and judging from the many words of commendation was appreciated by all.

Mr. Cheever of the Milwaukee Normal was present on Friday and Saturday and gave several very profitable talks along professional lines.

Miss Schofield conducted two model lessons, one in third grade arithmetic and one in first grade dramatization. One of the most interesting numbers on the program was that of Manual Training in the Rural schools given by Miss Marion Fenton. Principal M. V. Boyce discussed story work in elementary language and demonstrated what is being done by the Training School to prepare teachers for telling stories to children.

The youngest speaker to appear on the program, Miss Ruth Bennett of Three Lakes, gave some splendid suggestions for lower grade history work. Principals Hamlin, Appleman, Kylo and Robinson, Miss Lally and Mr. Juday each contributed some splendid things.

The children of the model school entertained the visiting teachers with songs and folk dances on Saturday morning, and the institute closed at noon Saturday.

ARREST APPLETON MAN

William Christian, who is wanted in Appleton on a theft charge, was arrested by the local police Wednesday. A warrant has also been issued here for Christian, charging him with a similar offense.

While playing Tuesday, Paul Lawrence, a twelve years old boy, cut his face quite badly in a fall. He is the son of Mr and Mrs Frank Lawrence.

JOHN MORAN SEES ALL WAR CAPITALS

Nephew Of Patrick Johnston Represents State Department In Europe

From the Stevens Point Gazette: The New North takes the following article pertaining to John Moran, who is a nephew of Mr and Mrs Patrick Johnston, old residents of Rhinelander. Mr Moran is quite well known here:

To have visited the capital of practically every one of the warring nations of Europe, including Berlin and Vienna, and to be present in Berlin on that eventful sixth of April, 1917, when congress passed the resolution declaring that a state of war existed between the United States and Germany, were privileges accorded John E. Moran, a Stevens Point boy.

Mr Moran held a position with the United States department of agriculture prior to being transferred to the state department in the latter part of 1916. In December of that year he was ordered to proceed abroad on a "diplomatic mission," his destination being Bern, Switzerland. After his arrival there he had considerable traveling in connection with his work, and it was while thus engaged that he visited the European capitals and many other important cities. While in Berlin he received orders to return to Switzerland at once and he had little difficulty in getting safely across the line.

Mr Moran is now attached to the American embassy at Bern, and letters from him bring the information that he is greatly pleased with the mountain republic. A letter he wrote on Sept 20, and which was received last week by his sister, Miss Theresa Moran at Chicago, and forwarded to Stevens Point to his brother, B P Moran, gives some interesting side lights on the war. Switzerland, a neutral nation was forced to conserve its food supply by issuing ration cards for rice, sugar and corn. Mr Moran also said that by the time his letter was received residents of that country would be obtaining bread by card. Wheat bread, he said, has been replaced by "war bread," which is dark in color and much more solid and hard than other bread. War bread cannot be sold until 48 hours old, a law of the land provides.

"The food here is not as good as it is at home," Mr Moran wrote, "but we are able to get along nicely with it."

FRIEDMAN PLANS FOR ICE RINK

Prospects are favorable for an ice rink in this city coming winter. Although nothing definite has been done regarding the location of the rink three sites are in view. The grounds back of the fifth ward school, the grounds between the Davenport street bridge and Soo line tracks and the marsh on Margaret St Much depends on the action of the city council in the final selection of a location.

Charles Friedman, who is an enthusiastic follower of winter sports, is at the head of the movement for the rink. He is organizing a skating club, with a membership fee of $1.00 per month, the money to be used toward the expense of the rink. The city will also be requested to assist in maintaining the rink, such as keeping it flooded and clear of snow.

Mr Friedman has already obtained seventy five members for the club and hopes to increase this number to one hundred within the next few days.

MORE SHEEP FOR ONEIDA COUNTY

Eighty-eight sheep were received here Monday by A G Urbank and will be placed by him on Oneida county farms. The shipment was purchased in Chicago by Charles Wirth, who is a business associate of Mr Urbank. At present the sheep are in the Urbank barn and will be distributed within a few days.

With this shipment over two hundred sheep have been received by Mr Urbank within the last month. Nearly every day he gets applications for the animals from county farmers. He will make an effort to fill all orders as rapidly as possible. Within the coming year he expects to distribute five thousand sheep in this county.

Mr Urbank advises all farmers to invest in sheep if they wish to realize any returns on their money. There is a scarcity of mutton and wool and prices for these products continue to soar higher.

RHINELANDER BOY OFFICERS' CAMP

Will Last Until April 1—Applications Can Be Made To E. O. Brown

James J. Cannon, a Rhinelander boy is with the 113th Company, Canadian Forestry Corps, Carlisle, England. James was at one time employed at Kolden's Store and has a large number of friends here who will read with interest the following letter from him written to his sister, Mrs George Carroll:

Floriston Camp, England, Sept 26, 1917

Dear Sister—

I am writing you a few lines to let you know where I am. As you see on the paper I am in the Canadian Forestry Corps. I enlisted last July in Sault Ste Marie, Mich. I tried for the U. S. army this spring but was turned down. I was only a short time in Canada after I joined and that was near Toronto. We boarded the boat in Halifax, N. S. and was nine days coming over; we had a fine trip, the best one I've made yet and I have made six since the war started. We are in a nice place here on the border of Scotland. There is a munition plant about a mile from here, employing about 6000 girls. I am driving team at present; the work is not hard, only it rains about five days a week; I have not had a leave yet but may soon.

When I do I will go to Glasgow or London; I suppose all the boys in Rhinelander are in the army; there are about six American boys here the rest is held until we come back. We only get half our pay here the rest is held until we come back. Our enlistment is until the war is over and six months after. There are not many men in the country now; the women are doing all kinds of work; we work here from 7:00 a m to 6:00 p m and quit at four on Saturday. We do not have to report then until Monday morning.

There has been a great change here in the last couple of years; you pay about double for anything you buy. When you answer give me all the news. I can not write any more as the lights are supposed to be out in a few minutes. I still remain the same.

Pte. J J Cannon, 113th Co Canadian Forestry Corps, Carlisle, Cumberland Co, England.

NEW FOOD SIGN ON BROWN ST.

E A Forbes' new food conservation sign was placed in position Tuesday just north of Hart's Store on Brown street. The sign, which appeals to the housewives of Rhinelander to do their share in conserving the nation's supply of food, is very attractive and was painted by William Cleveland.

At night the sign is illuminated by six large electric lights strung along the top. The lights are the gift of Mr Forbes, who supplies the current gratis.

IOWA MAN WILL MOVE TO COUNTY

Charles Wymuth, of Davenport Iowa, spent a few days this week in the western part of the county in company with C. P. Crosby, looking over lands. Mr Wymuth was so pleased with what he saw that he has decided to become one of Oneida county's farmers and is going to induce several of his Iowa friends to locate here also.

In speaking of Mr Crosby he said "Mr Crosby is an enthusiastic buyer for Oneida county. You are lucky to have men of his stamp here. He does not misrepresent facts to prospective settlers and I am sure that anyone who buys land of Mr Crosby will get a square deal."

"His Brother's Keeper"

How may clear, careful, and intelligent parents protect their children and themselves from the contagious diseases and other evils which infest the homes and neighborhoods of careless, and ignorant people. This is a question which has agitated mothers and fathers throughout the history of educated mankind. The complete answer has not been found. This much we know, however, that, inasmuch as those who are sick with pestilences spread their own affliction to others, our own safety is dependent upon making others safe. This is another instance in which the biblical question: "Am I my brother's keeper?" must be answered affirmatively. In this one, however, it is not just one of conscience, alone, but of selfish, personal interest as well. In their efforts to free themselves from needless suffering, preventable disease, and premature death, people are confronted with the necessity of giving as much attention to their neighbors' lives and health as to their own. What does it profit the husbandman to free his fields from thistles if his neighbors' carelessness cultivates them? His care of his own fields profits his neighbor rather more than it does himself. Just so with contagious diseases.

The mother who keeps her snuffy-nosed child at home and away from contact with other children is doing an even greater service to her neighbor than she is to herself or her own child. It is only a simple deal that she should receive equal consideration from her neighbor.

Medical school inspection, whether it be conducted by a doctor, a school nurse, or an intelligent teacher, is the best device so far arranged by which careful and intelligent parents may protect their children from disease contamination of the children of careless and ignorant parents. The fundamental principle of school-child health inspection is discovering sources of infection and removing them before the well has been infected. Nothing could be simpler or more in line with common sense practices as applied to other things. What housewife, for example, would keep decaying apples in contact with her sound ones. The establishment and proper maintenance of health inspection is not primarily a charity but a measure of self protection. Its value lies in the realization that preventing is much cheaper than curing it.

"SHORTY" SETTLES HIS CASE

Mr and Mrs M S Fournier, of Butternut Lake, were in Crandon yesterday morning a short time. Mr Fournier settled his case in which he was charged with having deer hides in his possession, rather than spend three or four days here fighting it, although he had the best chance in the world to prove his innocence. Game wardens roost about "Shorty's" place like flies around a piece of fly-paper, eagerly waiting for the last violation of a game law by his guests. A man now days needs a lawyer to accompany him when he goes in the woods, and interpret the many new phases of the law—Crandon Republican.

Something of a Compromise.

Mina was greatly attached to a neighbor a few blocks away from home, and agreed that she was his little girl, whenever he questioned her about it. One time he said: "Well, if you are really my girl, come home with me to live. Go on and get your hat." Mina hesitated a moment, gazed around the familiar room, and then replied: "I'll be your little girl, but I'll stay here with mamma and papa."

Always Have PERUNA

Mrs. L. A. Patterson, 1299 Kentucky St., Memphis, Tennessee, writes:

"I have been a friend of Peruna for many years. I have used it off and on for catarrhal complaints and found it a very excellent remedy. I have a small family of children. Times are hard with us, but I can scarcely afford to do without Peruna, especially during the season of the year when coughs and colds are prevalent. We always recommend Peruna to our neighbors, for the benefit it has been to us."

DEATH COMES TO FORMER RESIDENT

Everett, Wash., Oct. 26, 1917

On October 17, my sister, Mrs. Patrick R. Leo, died in Livingston, Montana, and I thought the best way to get the news to her many friends in Rhinelander would be through the medium of your good paper; as you perhaps know, my sister, Mrs. Leo, my sister, Mrs. Leo, well C. Playford and myself, were adopted when quite young by Daniel Sullivan, an old time resident of Rhinelander, who raised us. Mrs. Leo's maiden name was Emma C. Sloan; she died of chronic Bright's disease and was totally blind for a month before she died. She was buried in Evergreen cemetery here in Everett; this is the same cemetery in which the Curran girls, formerly of Rhinelander, her cousins, were buried. Mrs. Leo was 31 years old and is survived by Patrick R. Leo, husband; Harry Sloan Leo, son, 6 years old; C. H. Sloan, father; Harry D. Sloan, brother; Mrs. L. C. Playford, sister.

Mrs. Leo left Rhinelander in 1903 and since that time has lived in Seattle, Everett and Tacoma, Wash., Fargo, N. D. and Livingston, Mont. She had been married twelve years and died in the Park hospital, Livingston, Mont.

Yours truly,
Harry D. Sloan.

SUGAR SHORTAGE IS FELT HERE

The entire sugar output has been taken over by the food administration sugar distributing committee, and an appeal is thus sent out to the women of Rhinelander and Oneida county to use only as much as is absolutely necessary. There will be plenty of sugar to go around if everybody from the refiner down to the consumer will do his share to conserve the supply and lend his aid in preventing the hoarding or waste of this food necessity.

The central west will undoubtedly have to depend upon its sugar supply from the beet refiners. The jobbers will be apportioned a certain number of cars by the food administration committee, but at no time will they be allowed to have more than a two weeks' supply on hand. The same holds true to the retailer. No retailer will be allowed to load up his warehouse with sugar and only a limited supply can be kept on hand.

Local grocers in turn must see that the consumers' supply and requirements are cut down. The customers must be allowed only a limited amount and should bear in mind that sugar is a precious item and should be conserved accordingly.

If all agencies, including the grower, the refiner, the broker, the jobber, the retailer and the consumer will join hands in this great movement to conscientiously conserve the sugar supply, there will undoubtedly be enough for all. Absolute conservatism and positively no hoarding is the rule.

SUFFERING FROM COLD

If you shiver in frosty weather, if you have cold hands and feet, if colds are stubborn and frequent, then your blood may be thin and impoverished.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

has been correcting this condition for nearly fifty years. It possesses rare powers for creating natural body warmth, for charging summer blood with winter richness and strengthening both throat and lungs.

The Norwegian cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is now refined in our own American laboratories, which makes it pure and palatable.

NOT PLEASED WITH NEW HAMPSHIRE

Masconna, N. H., Oct. 27, 1917

Editor New North:

I arrived in New Hampshire O. K. and enjoyed the trip. After leaving Soo, Ontario, I passed through a lot of rough, stoney country; the railroad follows along one side of Lake Huron for a long ways so all have a good chance to view the lake. At Dragon, a little distance from Montreal, I saw where the big explosion was. That is where the chemical plant was blown up a short time ago; it looks like a little town all shot to pieces. I spent a day looking over the sights in Montreal.

I was in St. John and saw barracks where the killed soldiers drill. I was told that they are the largest regiment in Canada, the soldiers are principally Scotch. I also looked over the stock yards at Montreal and there were around 2300 horses and mules there ready to be shipped across the water.

I went to White River, Vt., and attended the last day of the fair. This is a very hilly country, lots of apples raised here; cider apples are selling at 50c per hundred pounds; winter apples at 75c per hundred; hay was a heavy crop here, but I call it poor hay for it is two-thirds quack grass. This is the worst place for quack I ever saw. It is thicker than hair on a dog any place you look. Potatoes are a light crop; they are selling at $1.75 per bushel; butter is 56 cents a pound. There are some fine herds of Jersey cows here and a few large flocks of sheep; most of the farm work is done with oxen, the old fashioned way. When a man starts for town with a load of produce he is in no hurry when he starts and is not particular what time he gets home. They make me think of the southern negroes; if they have enough for supper why they never worry about breakfast. There are a lot of silos in this section but all the corn I have seen is the yellow flint.

I don't claim to know much, if I did, I would not be here, for, I think this is the poorest farming country I ever saw. There is only from 5 to 7 inches of top soil and that is a blue clay and under that it is all gravel and rock; they can only raise two crops without fertilizing; the best crop I have seen here is beans. Oneida county is as far ahead of this country as day light is ahead of dark in my estimation. By what I have seen the southern negroes have not got anything on these old eastern yankees when it comes to being lazy. With best wishes to friends in Rhinelander, I am yours,

E. A. GIFFORD.

Mrs. O. C. Schultz, 104 Thayer St., Rhinelander, says: "My back ached so badly that I could work only for a little while in the morning and I could just barely drag myself around. I had dull pains over my kidneys, extending into my hips and limbs and these pains seemed to take every bit of energy and strength. My kidneys didn't act right and I had inflammation of the bladder. Rhineland and Oneida County are Prosperous

Let's Keep Them So.

War has not effected the prosperity of our great growing city and county. Everyone is busy. The farmers are getting good prices, our factories are running full time, houses are being built, and more will have to be erected to accommodate the people. The people are determined to make this a great city.

Every person in this community can help our prosperity

By Buying at Home

Buried, hoarded money, or buying out of Rhinelander retards the prosperity of our city. If you need it, buy it at home, and do your bit toward making your property more valuable and Rhinelander and Oneida County more prosperous.

NEW "SHINE PARLOR" HERE

Rhineland has a new "shine parlor"—not the wet goods kind, but a place where they will give your shoes that "million dollar look" and all for two jitneys.

Thomas Matzias is the proprietor of the stand, which is located in part of the Paska tailoring company's building, 15 South Brown St. Mr. Matzias came here from Antigo where he is also in the shine business.

INSURED PARCELS

In order to facilitate the settlement of claims on insured parcels all patrons of the postoffice who receive them in large numbers are requested to keep a list of all parcels received so as to be in position to answer to a certainty whether or not a certain parcel has reached them. It has been found that in places of business where many insured parcels are received, errors are sometimes made and to avoid confusion and delay, all patrons of the post office receiving parcels in sufficient number to warrant are requested to keep an accurate list covering the number of the parcels and the date received and the office of mailing.

And the good that we can do."

Did you have to wash your windows today?

About everything has gone up but the city hall flag pole.

Some folks by constantly knocking others only call attention to their own shortcomings.

Halloween passed off quietly in Rhinelander and so did a number of porch seats, front gates and other movable articles too numerous to mention.

Certainly the city administration had nothing to do with the school flag pole. That is a much smaller pole and easier to raise, and still it rests where it has for weeks, yes months.

Did you ever see or hear of a hog with two hearts? Well, a rare freak of nature of this kind was recently discovered near Iron River, Wis.
According to the Pioneer of that city while this is a new one to us it is by no means a rarity to see a "hog" without a heart.

HUSTING'S SUCCESSOR
Governor Philipp wishes to appoint a man to fill the place made vacant by the death of the late Senator Hustling. The law prescribes that a special election shall be held to choose a successor and we feel this is the thing to do.

The governor says he is not a candidate for this office and that he will select the best man available. More, he says this will save the state two hundred thousand dollars and no one will oppose this method except candidates for the office or some of their friends. We disagree with this statement.

The voters are jealous of their rights in the selection of candidates.
Senator Hustling was chosen by a vote of the people, and surely his selection is a point in favor of the elective system. While there might have been a diversity of opinion shortly after Senator Hustling's election as to the choice of the people, nearly every good citizen of Wisconsin has a right to be proud that Paul Hustling saved Wisconsin in the United States Senate. The dying words of our late senator "Tell them that I did the best I knew how" typified his conduct as a public official.

NATION'S WAR PROGRAM
Stupendous preparations to muster every ounce of American man power and economic resources for the defeat of Germany will be the answer of the United States to the Teutonic victories over the Russian and Italian armies, which mean a prolongation of the war.

Here is the program, some phases of which were discussed recently at the meeting of President Wilson and his cabinet:

Legislation by congress authorizing the expansion of the army to a maximum of 5,000,000 men.

Lowering of the minimum draft age to 19 and raising of the maximum draft age, possibly to 35 years.

Examination of the second increment of 687,000 draft registrants, beginning in December with a view to sending them to the training camps by early spring.

Flotation of the third Liberty loan probably for $1,000,000,000, next February.

A marked increase in war taxation particularly on the profits of business.

Legislation making it possible to restrict the manufacture of nones-sentials and to concentrate the labor power of the nation on the production of ships and munitions.

The revenues suffered by the Italian armies, following closely upon the military collapses of Russia, have awakened the administration to the realization that a much more aggressive policy must be pursued by the American government.—Ex-

War-Ravaged Bessarabia.

The original inhabitants of Bessarabia are believed to have been Cim-merians, after whom came the Scythians. Because it was the key to one of the approaches toward the empire of Byzantium, the province was invaded by many successive races during the early centuries of the Christian era. Trajan incorporated it with the province of Dacia, and in the next century the Goths poured into it, to be followed in turn by the Huns, the Avars and the Bulgarians.

Delays in Congress.

"How will you explain to your constituents," we childishly asked, "your action in delaying the business of this great nation by indulging in long-winded oratory while matters of tremendous importance wait?" "Of tremendous importance?" naively answered Senator Slush. "Why, what can possibly be of more importance than my speech?"—Kansas City Star.

Rubber Producing Plants.
Of all rubber producing plants, only guayule grows wild within our borders. In the Big Bend territory in Texas a large district, only second in size to the Chihuahuan field in Mexico, is available. Why not extend this field over the arid lands of New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada? Waste land would be utilized, and a valuable product secured. Guayule is not new to the American rubber man, unfortunately it is almost ancient history to him. It is safe to say that there are scattered over this country at least fifty deresinating plants, intended primarily for the treatment of this rubber. At one time they furnished about one-fifth of the entire rubber used in this country. The total production of the Mexican guayule fields was about 10,000 tons of the washed and dried, but not deresinated, rubber a year, from 1905 to 1910. In 1911 it began to fall off, and the recorded production for 1912 is 3,500 tons. About 80 per cent of this production was exported to the United States. Since 1912 guayule has been comparatively unimportant.—Metallurgical and Chemical Engineering.

Identifying Us.
We travel but seldom. When we do adventure out of our beaten path we love to go in style. Just before we made a recent trip we discovered that our faithful grip-sack presented an appearance of premature senility. An obliging relative, who is a retired farmer, volunteered to refurbish it with an embrocation which he had evolved for use as a harness dressing or hair restorer, we have forgotten which. When applied the preparation smelled somewhat obtrusively, but our kinsman assured us that the odor would soon pass away. With our retic-ule glossily bedaubed we took our seat in the train. By this time we had become used to the scent, and ceased to notice it. Presently a venerable citizen of Tyrocity seated himself beside us. We gave him our views of the weather, the war and sundry other subjects. "It wouldn't surprise me if you was a mighty smart man," our seatmate eventually observed. "You're a horse doctor, ain't ye? You shore smell like one."—Kansas City Star.

Physics and Agriculture.
One reason why the farmer so often looks upon the representatives of scientific agriculture as impractical may be found in the neglect of the study of physics as applied to living matter. Our studies of physics have generally been confined to mechanical action in the soil, and the physical functions of the plant's processes of growth from physical soil conditions have been neglected. A study of the physics of the living as well as the dead matter can do much toward bringing light to many of the farmer's most perplexing problems, and make for every-day co-operation between practical and scientific farming.—Los Angeles Times.

Treatment for Dog Bites.
A dog bite is not always followed by hydrophobia. Wash the wound with an antiseptic promptly and rinse with a solution of water of ammonia—a teaspoonful to a cupful of boiled water.
Further to insure safety, the wound may be sucked out, but this should not be done until it has been cleansed and rinsed. Anything sucked out should not be swallowed, and the mouth should be rinsed. Of course, a surgeon should be consulted.

V. O. STRICKLER LECTURES HERE

Says True Religion Consists Of Spiritual Truths And Not Erroneous Beliefs

A lecture on Christian Science by Virgil O. Strickler was given at the Cozy Monday night. Mr. Strickler is a member of the Board of Lecturship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

"True religion consists of spiritual truth, and not of erroneous beliefs; hence it follows that one's religion is limited to the amount of spiritual truth he knows, and that erroneous religious beliefs are only so many delusions that serve no other purpose than to obstruct spiritual growth."

"Christian Science aims to destroy erroneous religious beliefs by substituting a knowledge of truth in place thereof, and to destroy out of the human mind all evil qualities by planting good qualities in their stead. It wages relentless warfare against all wrong mental qualities. It seeks to substitute love in place of hate, selfishness in place of dishonesty, and truth in place of error. It lays tremendous emphasis upon the necessity for 'bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ.' (II. Cor. x, 5) as the Bible commands. It shows that the cause of all diseases and sin is mental, and not physical, and that both sickness and sin are destroyed by the 'evangelization of the human mentality with truth and love. It teaches without any reservation whatever that the truth taught and practiced by Jesus, when understood and applied, is sufficient without drugs or any material means to heal the sick and regenerate the sinner, and Christian Scientists everywhere are engaged daily in demonstrating and proving this to be true.

"Mrs. Eddy is acknowledged to be the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and many people ask what it is that she has discovered. In reply it can be said that she has discovered the law of Spirit which is spiritual truth."

"Mrs. Eddy discovered the law of Spirit as truly as Sir Isaac Newton discovered the law of gravitation, and this fact should be thoroughly understood. Just as Newton discovered that the movements of material bodies are regulated and governed by this material law, so Mrs. Eddy discovered the Principle that governs the entire universe, including every detail in the lives of men. That supreme, creative, governing, omnipresent Mind or Principle is God, the only cause, the only creator, the only Ruler of man and the universe."

ONEIDA COUNTY BOYS IN FRANCE

Gordon McNutt and William Fisher Write To Minocqua Friends

William Fisher and Gordon McNutt, of Minocqua, are among the Oneida county boys now seeing active service in France. Both have friends in Rhinelander and the New North publishes the following interesting letters from them which appeared in the last issue of The Minocqua Times:

Somewhere in France, Sept. 26, 1917.
Friend Walt and G. G. Club—
Well, if you can locate "Somewhere in France" on the map you will know exactly where I am located. If you can not, you will have to guess.

However, we are close enough to the line to have shells break up on a hill near by us and to see the sheet fire in the trenches at night. Also close enough for the "Bosch" or Huns to come over and throw bombs at us from their aeroplanes. The best nights for an air raid are the clear, warm ones with a bright moon. They never come on the cloudy nights. They come sweeping down like a big hawk. Then he shuts off his motor and bang, bang, bang, three or four bombs fall. Sometimes they rush nose down, and fill the barracks or hospital or depot full of bullets from their machine guns.

The aircraft, which the French have located upon the ground, generally loosen up about ten minutes before they drop their bombs. Sometimes the "Bosch" float around in the air for two or three hours without an attack, locating their "prey." Several times we have seen the air craft guns shooting at German planes taking pictures of the surrounding country. They take pictures up to the height of five miles and then attack at night from these pictures. Last night they attacked with both bombs and machine guns. The only protection against these bombs, etc., is a trench about six feet deep covered over with dirt, etc. This protects you from shrapnel from the defense guns and from the Bosch machine guns. Also, in order for a bomb to get men there it must land squarely in a trench, one foot wide, which is almost impossible. The Bosch hardly ever attempt to hit a trench because a machine gun going from fifty to one hundred miles an hour can surely hit a trench only by luck. As far as I am concerned, I go into the woods. They never throw bombs at the woods, and I can sleep there in safety. I don't run myself but I pass a lot of those that are trying to run.

Seriously, I am quite impressed with the aviation service and have made application along with two others to be transferred into this corps. The request has already passed our Captain and I hope soon to be learning the bird game to do the best I can for Uncle Sam. I may not get in but, I am hoping that I will. I'll be defending Uncle Sam then and our Boys; if I get one or two Bosch before I fall, well and good.

We are in this war and the ones back home had better realize it is war. Regards to all,
GORDON McNUTT.

(Editor's Note—The dashes in the following letter denote parts of the letter which were censored.)

Somewhere in France, Thursday, Oct. 4, 1917.

Dear Folks—
Wrote to Bill Kline the other day in answer to his letter. Sure was glad to hear from him. Has been raining most of today. Rather mean too the weather we have been having.

Time sure does go fast over here. Hardly know where it goes. Have been in France almost—and it really does not seem like weeks. Mother may be worried some over me since McNutt received that letter from Gordon saying that we were within—perhaps he is but I am a great deal more than that, perhaps 100 miles. Do not even think of going to see him. If possible I am going to visit the—or where they were. I have a hunch that they will move us—but have nothing official on it. All I hope is that I get the chance to see modern warfare. In my notion if we are to see it, it will have to be in—
This war can not last much longer. From all reports the Germans are starving in the trenches. They are not living, just existing. They are using anything over five feet high regardless of age. I believe that Sherman was right when he said, "War is hell." From all accounts it sure is. I still look forward to an early peace, perhaps before—

Miss Johnson of Nashville visited her sister Mrs Ed Sparks here a few days. F. A. Lowell, county school superintendent, and assistant of Rhinelander, visited schools here this week. Mrs Henry Sparks and children left Thursday for Nashville to visit her folks. Gordon Wolfram of Pelican Lake visited with Wolfgarms Thursday. Mrs Victor Lass and Mrs John Drzewski spent Wednesday at Cranston.

F. E. Parker, county road commissioner of Rhinelander, was in town Wednesday and looked over the government road which is now being made from there Mr Parker and Ed Wolfram went to Monico.

Misses McLaughlin and Kearns spent the week at Rhinelander. Joe Sherman of Cranston was in town Thursday.

Mrs Wiedner, age 70 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs Frank Wiedner, with whom she has made her home for many years. Deceased will be buried at Pelican Lake.

Miss Helen Plotka who is employed at Ironwood, Mich, spent a few days with her folks. Miss Tillie Svonika of Milwaukee visited with her folks here a few days, returning Sunday.

Bob Ison of Nashville was in town Friday. Lewis Welx of Antigo was in town.

Mr and Mrs Rufus Ison of Nashville visited friends here Sunday. Those who bought liberty bonds of our town as reported are the following: Ed Wolfram, Peter E. Palbaska and Mrs P. E. Palbaska and Abe Lewis. There may be more but are not known at this writing. Mrs Chas Sparks of Nashville was a visitor at the E Sparks home.

Resume of the Most Important Events in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—Of Interest to the Scandinavians in America.

SWEDEN.

Speaking for American citizens of Swedish birth and parentage at the great Liberty Loan mass meeting at Carnegie hall, former Gov. Adolph O. Eberhardt of Minnesota declared that no Americans are more loyal than Swedish-Americans, and that they will do their utmost for American victory, even if Sweden should be forced by her ruling class into the war on the side of Germany. "We should treat Sweden just the same as any other enemy of freedom," said Mr. Eberhardt, "and fight for the cause of humanity so much the harder, until the common people of all the world will be rid of every hereditary rule and the military anarchy that now threatens the liberty and the happiness of the whole human race. Those who hail from the Scandinavian countries and who are naturally interested in their welfare, should remember that the future existence of every small nation is at stake in this war, and history has taught us conclusively that no peace in Europe can be lasting, unless the future of the smaller nations are safeguarded against invasion by the powerful neighbors. Not only have the small nations the same rights to exist and work out their destiny that the strong nations have, but they are just as essential to progress and civilization and have contributed thereto in the largest measure."

Finland is on the verge of starvation, writes Louis Edgar Browne to the Chicago Daily News from Stockholm. In the northern part of the country 300,000 people are now living on fish and ground pine bark. When the ice comes fish will be unobtainable, and the bark will not be nourishing. Unless the allies act in concert with the Finnish government there will be thousands of deaths this winter and the Finnish people will be forced to turn to Germany for aid. Last summer the Russian government promised Finland flour but frequent urgings on the part of the Finnish government for its immediate delivery were met with procrastination. Yet the Russians categorically refused to allow the Finns to buy wheat abroad. Recently the Germans made overtures to Finland requesting a naval base and permission to use Finnish ports, promising as compensation sufficient wheat to carry Finland through the winter. The Finns, who are loyal friends of the allies, informed the Russian government of the German intrigues and were told that while no flour was available in Russia to feed Finland, the Finns might purchase it abroad.

Axel R. Nordvall and Hjalmar Lundblom, Swedish commissioners now in Washington endeavoring to arrange for shipment of foodstuffs and other goods to Sweden, have requested the Swedish foreign office to send by cable the statistics asked for by the United States war trade board regarding consumption, production, export and import. The information desired is contained in the mail pouches seized by British authorities and now at the British embassy. It was said today it was uncertain when the pouches would be released. Efforts of the Swedish officials here to communicate by code in cable with their government have been unsuccessful, the messages apparently being held up somewhere en route. State department officials today disclaimed knowledge of the holding up of Swedish code messages. The Swedish commissioners have decided to use plain language for their messages instead of code and expect to receive in that way the statistics.

DENMARK.

A year ago last summer so much rye was shelled out in a rye field at Fletit, North Sjælland, that a thick growth started in the fall. The owner of the land let it rip, and last summer this field gave a splendid rye crop.

The weather last summer was just splendid for the silk worms. At Viridissville, for instance, over 100,000 cocoons were raised, and the owners said that it was a pleasure to tend to the little animals last summer. The Danes used to send their silk to Italy to be spun. But on account of the war the crops of 1916 and 1917 will be kept in the country until the world becomes sensible enough to quit fighting.

Maria Feodorovna, formerly Princess Dagmar of Denmark, mother of former Czar Nicholas, is critically ill in Petrograd, according to a cablegram to the Jewish Daily Forward of New York city.

Large quantities of nettles have been gathered in Denmark during the summer, and a factory at Kjøge will prepare them for the rope factories. Some of the tow is used for sackcloth. It is even possible to make fine sheeting out of it, but most of it is turned into coarse materials.

Letters wanted by the United States Credentials for Doctor Lundblom will also be called to him. The proposal by the British embassy that the pouches be opened in the presence of Swedish and British representatives, or of Swedish and American representatives, made to the Swedish minister, was rejected by the latter. The British contention is that the case is parallel to that of a Swedish pouch which was dispatched from Washington at the time Count Johann von Bernstorff was leaving America. The pouch was taken in charge by the British authorities in Halifax, diverted to London, where the Swedish legation's counsellor, in the presence of a representative of the British foreign office, examined the contents. It is asserted by British officials that, while all documents were turned over to the Swedish legation in London, some of them were of an irregular and questionable character.

Sweden is dependent on Germany for coal and potash and many other necessities for the country's trade, many of which are unobtainable elsewhere. But, quite apart from these reasons, Swedes of all parties are united and resolute in opposing any attempt to force them to break trade relations with any country or, what many fear, if it is intended for the purpose of compelling Sweden to abandon neutrality. The Stockholm Tidningen, commenting on the paralysis of economic life that would follow cessation of trade with Germany, says: "We have to reckon with the American attempt to force us to abandon neutrality. It must be remembered that America is the only power that thus far has formally invited us to take this step, but we must from the outset oppose the attempt."

NORWAY.

Ships sailing in convoy from Norway to England and sunk on October 17 by German cruisers, five were Norwegian, representing a total of 3,400 tons, two were Danish, two Swedish, one Belgian and two British. Seventy-one survivors, after strenuous rowing, have arrived at different places on the west coast. The admiral in command reports the rescue of 37 men from the steamers sunk by the German raiders. The following details are given: "Rescued from Norwegian steamers: Kristine, one man; Sorhaug (550 tons), 11 men; Silja, 7; Hahli, 7. "From Swedish steamers: Wilkander, 2 men; Wistur, 0." A dispatch from Bergen says that several survivors arrived there. The captain of one of the Norwegian steamers, the sole survivor of that vessel, says he ordered his crew into the boats, but the Germans began firing immediately. After the boats were lowered a shell hit one and killed nine men. The crew in despair returned to the steamer and signalled to the Germans to cease firing, but their appeal was not heeded. The bridge was then hit and knocked overboard with the captain and the rest of the crew. The captain managed to save himself by swimming to a raft. He was picked up later by a boat from one of the other sunken steamers. The Teutons got away before the British patrol forces appeared on the scene.

Norway is making vigorous efforts to stamp out German espionage within its shores. The interned German ship, "Berlin," is to be removed from Hølmelvik near Trondhjem, further inside the coast line. It has been urged for a long time that the position of the "Berlin" offered opportunities for espionage on shipping. Guards have been placed not only over all Norwegian military establishments, but also at some of the large industrial works. Thus a military picket has been posted at the Fredrikstad iron works, where the new ships for 10,000-ton ships are now ready, and trespassers have been warned to keep away. Under a law of July, 1917, the commune of Christiania has ordained that the chief of police may forbid persons who are not Norwegians to reside in the commune longer than a certain fixed period. A new law concerning the necessity of passports and the expulsion of aliens has been rigidly enforced since October 1.

A controversy arose between the commune of Orstern and those who own the right to fish in the river. The commune had built a power dam which they claimed was so high that the salmon could not pass up the river so that they could catch them as formerly. A number of experts and the judge went to the dam to obtain results. While they were discussing the problem a witness which no one had summoned suddenly appeared on the scene. A fine salmon jumped the dam right before their eyes. Some members of the party had a hearty laugh, while the faces of some of them were unpleasantly elongated. Finally the judge said: "Do we really need any more testimony?" No, that one fish had served as witness, judge, and jury.

There is a narrow-gauge railway between Rena and Elverum. Now this is also made a broad-gauge railway by the addition of a new rail for the whole distance of twenty miles. This makes three parallel rails, so that both narrow-gauge and broad-gauge trains can run on the track. The improvement will cost about $30,000.

The government asked for a loan of about $11,000,000, and about $14,000,000 was subscribed. The government finally took the whole amount subscribed.

Shaping One's Own Destiny.

We all shape our own destiny. There is no use in blaming our parents, or the life around us, for what we are. On the other hand, we should keep in mind the well-worn adage, "Any dead fish will float down stream, but it takes a live one to swim against the current." Every one of us can improve ourselves mentally and thus fit ourselves for better work if we but make an honest effort to do so. Competition is pretty keen these days, hence the indolent and the "I wish I were" type stand absolutely no chance for a hearing.—Exchange.

Concerning Hay Fever.
There is no such thing as a rose cold. That affliction of early summer comes from various grasses, such as Johnson grass, nut grass, Bermuda grass, and oats, and some trees, particularly red cedar and black walnut. These grasses and trees are pollinated only by insects, and it is the rule in hay fever science that the disease is usually caused by the pollen that goes by breeze rather than by bees.

Willing Work Always Prized.
That man will be a joy to his "boss" who will give willing obedience under any and all circumstances. Whatever work falls to his lot will be performed in the best possible manner, even when it is not the kind he chose. An army of such workers would win anywhere against much larger numbers. The pity of it is, that compared with the host that works under protest, the faithful are pitifully few. —Exchange.

Solitude Has Its Value.
Proofs of growth due to solitude are endless. Milton's greatest work was done when blindness, old age and the death of the Puritan government forced him into complete seclusion. Beethoven did his best work in the solitude of deafness. Bacon would never have been the great leader of scientific thought had not his trial and disgrace forced him from the company of a grand retinue and stupid court to the solitude of his own brain.

Basis of All Friendship.
"Know this, that he that is a friend to himself is a friend to all men." —Selected.

The Individual.
The initiation of all wise or noble things comes, and must always come, from individuals—generally at first from some one individual. The honor and glory of the average man is that he is capable of following that initiation; that he can respond internally to wise and noble things. —John Stuart Mill.

Lesson in History.
The young lady across the way says women have done their part in every great war in history, and she doubts if Napoleon would ever have won the battle of Waterloo if it hadn't been for Joan of Arc. —Cartoons Magazine.

ANTIGO WINS IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Rhinelanders Have Poor Luck On Icy And Muddy Field

(Junior Class Notes)
The fourth game of the season was played Saturday at Antigo. The field was covered with ice and snow and about one half of the field soon turned to mud. The team put up one of the pluckiest fights it ever has, but to those who watched from the side lines, it seemed as if luck was against us from the start. The Antigo interference would plunge into our line and each fellow would grab and hold a man so the one carrying the ball would be able to make a getaway. Through this kind of playing Antigo made three touchdowns, although they were penalized on this a couple of times. Even with this hindrance our team made many pretty tackles. Tuttle threw many fine forward passes of which only one was missed, while Antigo did not have much success with open plays. The Antigo team made one goal kick besides the three touchdowns and one touchback. They said down there that if our boys played games like that with Merrill and Wausau, they would surely win.

The entrance of three Freshmen, Harold Sanns, Nina Hestrom, and Edward Orlich of Tomahawk, on Monday, brought the enrollment up to the 280 mark. The attendance has been remarkably good for the first seven weeks of school, rarely dropping below 275 for the day. The total amount of liberty bonds purchased in the public schools of the city reached $5260 before the sale closed on Saturday. Report cards for the first six weeks, which were delayed because of difficulty in getting material, were given out on Tuesday. A new method of marking grades is employed, and is fully explained on the back of the card. If a P or an F appears upon the card, investigation should be made into the cause, as either mark indicates unsatisfactory work.

Arrangements are being made to enlist the high school girls to assist at the Red Cross rooms from four till five each afternoon. It is planned to have a detail of ten girls report each night under a leader.

FIND MAN'S BODY IN FREIGHT CAR

After being in a sealed freight car for several days the body of Peter A. Dale, believed to be of Fort Worth, Tex., was a few nights ago taken from the car at Summit Lake. The Antigo Journal tells of the finding of the corpse.

Covered up with some twenty sacks of feed, which had fallen upon him and broken his neck, he was first discovered by Frank Miller, who was taking a crew to Summit Lake to do a logging job. The latter immediately telephoned for the sheriff, who went up on the "limited" last evening and the body brought down here this morning.

On Thursday of last week, Dr. Kleisch of Milwaukee had hired ten men to go to Summit Lake to work for Frank Miller, who was going to do a logging job for him. The men on Thursday loaded a box car at Milwaukee, filling one side with bags of feed and the other side with various kinds of provisions and camp supplies. There was a narrow passage way in the middle of the car, it was then sealed and addressed to Summit Lake.

On Sunday night the crew of men left Milwaukee on the passenger for Summit Lake, and Mr. Miller noticed that one of the men was missing. He thought nothing of it, however, as the man had probably changed his mind about taking the job. The car arrived at Summit Lake last evening and as it was opened a terrible stench came out of it. Digging down among the sacks a man's body was discovered. A message was immediately dispatched to Sheriff Buchen who went up and with assistants removed the sacks and found the body of a man who was recognized as the tenth man of the crew.

The man had apparently crawled into the car before it was sealed and lay down in the passage way, expecting to save the money for his fare, which was being advanced by Miller, but was to be taken out of his pay later. When the car started the jerking tipped over the first row of sacks and came down upon him. His head was resting on a little cushion he had devised, which no doubt accounts for his neck being broken.

According to a letter found on his person he has a brother, Frank J. Dale, living at 606 West 45th St., New York. He had a registration card dated at Ft. Worth, Texas, showing him to be a man under 31 years. He also had a letter addressed to him at Kansel, N. K., showing that he had at one time lived there.

An Electric Pistol.

An inventor has turned out an electric pistol built along original lines. It does not use gunpowder or cartridges, but is so constructed that its contents, gases, are exploded by a touch of the button and a projectile is expelled. The pistol consists of a brass cylinder at one end of which is a small battery and coil. The gases are introduced from the outside or from a small tank attached to the pistol frame, explains the Electrical Experimenter. Although the use of electricity in this case is merely an experiment, it is evident that it can be used to produce exactly what powder does, explosion in a confined space and the swift movement of a missile. Mankind began with a club and a stone to deliver blows. The bullet is only a small but speedier object than a hand-thrown stone, wounding at a greater distance than is possible with a spear or arrow.

Four Ways of Making Candles.

Candles are made and have been made for centuries by four distinct processes called "dipping," "pouring," "drawing" and "molding." Few candles of commerce are now made of pure beeswax or tallow, but usually by combining stearine, a trade name for a mixture of varying animal and vegetable fats; paraffin wax, obtained from petroleum; spermaceti, obtained from the sperm whale; beeswax and mineral wax, obtained from ozocerite. Palm oil and coconut oil are also extensively used in the candlemaking trade.

Wesley's Retentive Memory.

Samuel Wesley reproduced from memory after a lapse of 25 years an oratorio covering upward of 300 closely written pages which he had composed early in life. He said that he saw the score in his "mind's eye" as accurately as if it lay before him.

AN OLD MAN'S STOMACH

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain pepper, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its function. A complete answer has not been found, gentle movement of the bowels.

Cut Glass is Fragile.

Cut glass probably would break more easily than uncut glass. The pattern in cut glass is cut by means of grinding wheels. Uncut glass patterns are usually molded. The angles in cut glass are better defined and sharper. The cutter also may, in some cases, drive his wheel a little deeper than in other spots. Obviously, the glass at such points would be thinner and more fragile.

WISCONSIN AGAIN SHOWS THE WAY

Wisconsin is still "showing the way" in emergency work. Five weeks ago, Magnus Swenson, Food Administrator for Wisconsin, ordered one meatless and one wheatless day each week in the state of Wisconsin, Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively.

The patriotic people of Wisconsin obeyed the order for the most part, with admirable spirit. Wisconsin made a success of it.

In view of Wisconsin's leadership in the matter, the following announcement is of particular interest: "Orders have just been issued from Washington at once to establish and announce a Wheatless and a Meatless day each week, in every State of the Union. Therefore, Wednesday of each week, beginning October 24, will be designated as a Wheatless day and Tuesday of each week beginning October 30, as a Meatless day in all the hotels and restaurants, as well as in the homes. Your immediate cooperation in this movement, therefore, is absolutely essential and you will please arrange your menu accordingly."

The announcement was signed by Tracy C. Drake, chairman of the Hotel and Restaurant Division of District No. 5, of the Federal Food Administration. This district includes the central states, northern and eastern divisions. The states have been requested to advise hotel and restaurants of the new federal order. Wisconsin, however, is off in the lead.

IN NEW GARAGE

Tank Brothers are now located in their new garage building on S. Stevens street, opposite the New North office. The new structure is up-to-date in every detail, and although not quite completed, workmen are busy putting on the finishing touches.

Tank Brothers are agents in Rhineland and territory for the Buick car. Frank Tank, one of the firm, is well known to local motorists, having been in the garage business on W. Davenport for some time.

SALOON MAN FINED

In municipal court Wednesday, John Pomeroy, a saloon man, was fined $25 and costs for selling liquor to a minor. He has charge of the saloon near Lake Julia.

WHY The Bicycle Is Coming Back Into Its Own

THE bicycle, through the agency of war, is silently coming back into its own, and as a result the fighting fronts of the great armies, relieved of their networks of trenches and the terrifying artillery and rifle fire, might well be the countryside in any nation, with cyclists, a little hurried of motion possibly, going in every direction. In fact, one might well imagine himself in a rural community 25 years ago, when everyone not a cripple, or, worse still, unpossessed of a wheel, trundled madly about the country every hour to be snatched from his work.

The "bike" had a distinct part in the advance of troops, and this was particularly so during the early days of the war, when the fighting was carried on over wider stretches of the country, and when the great armies were alternately advancing and retreating, too busy with the objectives in hand to stop and "dig in."

The English troops, in particular, have taken advantage of the possibilities of the bicycle for use in scouting and messenger duty. The British have gone so far in some bases as to convert some of the regiments of yeomanry into cyclist formations.

With the British, cyclists technically are regarded as army troops, but used as specialist corps, like the Royal Engineers and other army troops establishments, but signs are not wanting that, with their great increase in numbers and with the new conditions of modern warfare, the cyclists will in future take their place as a definite arm rather than as specialists.

The military cyclists played a great part in the early days of this struggle. In their advance through France and Belgium the German armies depended largely upon their advance guards of cyclist companies of Jaegers, supported by mobile mechanical transport columns, armored machine-gun cars, and reinforced when necessary by swift concentrations of infantry in motor ambulances.

The old tradition of the cavalry screen and the patrols of mounted lancers were swept aside by the more progressive "mechanical cavalry," as the cyclists have been called. All roads and villages were reconnoitered and seized by cyclist units, only the enclosed country in between the road parallels being covered by the slower cavalry.

OLD GETTYSBURG

By A. C. NEW.

Old Gettysburg, after a half century of comfortable, sluggish peace, again took on a martial aspect. Off in the direction of Culp's Hill, Little Round Top, and the other renowned parts of the historic battlefield, the last notes of "march call" had, a half hour before, died upon the air, and now, for a Saturday night junta in the town, hundreds of khaki-clad figures wended their way down the road, turning past the post office to the town square, where hundreds of lights, proclaiming their readiness for the evening, blazed their commercial welcome to the host. Some ran, some walked, some sang as they swung along in step, others moved listlessly, as if merely to a goal where they might abide the time between mess and taps.

Among the latter were Corporal Arthur Ewing and Harry Adkins of his squad, his inseparable companion. They stood in front of the window of the largest store in the square—the mecca for the thirsty troops—and gazed idly at the citizen populace, male and female, who strolled by, singly and in groups, the girls tossing their heads proudly away, as now and then a friendly smile crossed some soldier's features.

The following day being Sunday and their last rest-day in camp, it was announced that they might have the day to themselves, and Harry, bursting into his tent with the news, found Arthur, with a bundle, already starting forth.

"Where y' going?" he demanded, giving the bundle a curious glance.

"Over to Abbotstown—for the day," vouchsafed Arthur, briefly.

"Ah, cut it," protested the other. "We're gonna have a ball game this morning. What's up?"

"Nothing special," snapped Arthur, "but I'm off. G'by, Harry."

And he left his chum staring after him in amazement, as he slowly trudged out of the tent and down the road.

For two or three miles he walked on, through Gettysburg, and then out into the open country, and as he passed an old stone trestle, he saw what he was looking for. Vaulting over a low fence, he made for a large barn and disappeared within. After a moment a young girl peered in at him.

"I wouldn't," said the girl. "Don't be a deserter."

"I'm not deserting," flared Ewing. "I'm just taking a holiday for the day."

"Why the change of clothes?" she persisted, and she pointed again to the uniform. "Are you—ashamed—of them?"

"No," came his proud reply. "I'm proud of them. But others are not—you're not. You shun those who wear them. So I'm going over to Abbotstown—as a plain man—just for a day. People will notice me then," he added, bitterly. "We are outcasts."

"I wouldn't say that," answered the girl, quietly. "But I'll admit we're not allowed to talk to you. So many of the soldiers are not gentlemen. One of them insulted a girl in town last week."

"One of them?" he echoed. "Just because of one you condemn thousands. Is that a sign all of them are bad?"

"No!" she admitted, and the truth of the challenge caused her to hang her head. "But why don't you stick to yourselves? Then you wouldn't be snubbed."

"Why do we have to be snubbed, you mean?" he shot right back. "We're going out to fight your battles—yours and your sister's—and your father's, brother's and mother's. We're leaving bright, happy homes, good positions, for what? Don't think we're asking that. We're glad to go."

Ewing started to leave the barn, his eyes straight ahead, when he felt a hand on his sleeve and, turning, he saw that her free hand was hiding her face, down which the tears were freely coursing. Immediately he relented.

"Excuse me for being so rough," he pleaded gently. "I didn't mean to hurt you."

"But you have," she answered. "Because it's the truth. But please—please don't do what you're doing. You—you'll be caught—and locked up in the guardhouse."

"No danger of that, little lady," he answered confidently. "No one will see me."

"But they will," she persisted. "My father is home. He saw you come into this barn. He's suspicious already. I—I came to warn you."

"You—you came to warn me?" he echoed wonderingly.

"I can't tell you, now," she answered, her eyes twinkling mysteriously, "but you'll know later. Now please change—will you?"

She reached out her hand, with a pleading look in her misty eyes, and he grasped it and held it soberly for a brief instant.

"I'll do it, Miss Maynard," he answered, quickly. "But tell me—will I see you again?"

"You may," she answered, with a bright smile, and in another minute she was gone. For a minute he stared after her, then started to change his clothes. A few minutes later a figure in khaki emerged from the barn, and with a wistful smile over his shoulder at a distant house, turned his footsteps back toward the camp.

Late marriages.

Arguing for early and against late in life marriages, W. M. Gallician said in London the other day that "the best age for a man to begin the life of wedlock is twenty-five and for a woman twenty," adding: "By best I mean morally, mentally and physically. There is a higher chance of happiness and constancy in marriage when the partners marry young. They are mutually adaptable, and, if they are sensible, they are willing to modify their habits, and to grow, to a certain extent, as one mind."

Baby Born on a Shetland Island.

Some years ago a bonus was paid to a baby in extraordinary circumstances. The new arrival was born at Balta, one of the outlying islands of the Shetland group, and it seems that it was the first baby to be born on the island for two centuries. The proprietor of the island forthwith sent $125 to its mother, a working woman, who was employed on the island in connection with a fish curing station.

First Paper Brown in Color.

When paper was first made in England, in 1353, it was only of a brown color, and it was not until about 1600 that white paper was produced, and even then it was of inferior quality.
